

Definite & Indefinite articles

The part of speech used to indicate nouns and to specify their application.

What is an article?

Basically, articles are either definite or indefinite. They combine to a noun to indicate the type of reference being made by the noun.

Examples:

On Monday, an unarmed man stole $1,000 from the bank. The thief hasn't been caught yet.

I was walking past Benny's Bakery when I decided to go into the bakery to get some bread.

There's a position available in my team. The job will involve some international travel.

We went on a walk in the forest yesterday.

Where is the bathroom?

Turn left and go to number 45. Our house is across from the Italian restaurant.

My father enjoyed the book you gave him.
