

Charlie, your teacher of English

Business English on the Telephone

Today a good knowledge of Business English is key to succeed in this modern world of commercial transactions, so the level of self-confidence must be the highest as it makes future partners, or clients, trust you. It also can make you more appetizing for big firms and corporations.

Anyway, everything has a process and it includes having an intermediate-to-advanced level of English so grammar can be improved, on the one hand, while fluency increases and vocabulary expands, on the other.

In order to achieve this project you need a method that can be interesting to follow, and which can provide you with all the data needed to speak well in Business English. The use of mobile phones makes teaching better, but only when students already have a good knowledge of English. Besides, this way of teaching Business English is also an incentive since students can be sitting comfortably in a sofa at home, or having coffee at their favorite coffee shop, or even having a walk in the park.

Charlie, your teacher of English

Students will receive, via email, files containing data to be studied first, and discussed when the phone call is in progress. The aim is to establish a conversation process in which all the business information will be used to create imaginary situations in which possible solutions will be put forward and so solve the problems attached to the scenario developed by the conversation script that results from the examples contained in the various files I will send to those students interested in this project.

If you need more info, send an email to the address shown below, and I will respond to you ASAP.

My email address: bilingual.approach@yahoo.com

Links of interest:

Charlie, your teacher of English This website in Google+ contains many PDF files related to grammar, phrasal verbs, Spanish to English expressions and many other glossaries of interest for students.

Charlie your teacher of English in YouTube

Tag links:

English grammar; talking business; English for beginners; USA Today; The Guardian; British Council; American Institute; Business and Professional English; Total Immersion in English; Business Language Training; International Business English; Test your English - Business English; English for business - | Teaching English | British Council | BBC; English for adults | British Council France; Learn English free at USA Learns; Beginners English Course - English-online.org.uk

Download this PDF file from this website to gain access to all the links included above.